Expanded coverage from every region of the United States

Series 4 of Early American Newspapers offers several hundred thousand fully searchable issues from more than 140 significant 18th-, 19th- and 20th-century newspapers from all 50 present regions of the United States. From the acclaimed newspaper collections of the American Antiquarian Society, the Library of Congress, Wisconsin Historical Society and more than 90 other institutions, Series 4 offers newspapers of unique historical significance, regional weeklies and big-city dailies.

Newspapers of special significance

Many of the titles in Series 4 are of special historical significance, including The Liberator, William Lloyd Garrison's powerful anti-slavery newspaper. Others include the New Orleans Daily Creole, the first African-American daily newspaper in America; the Springfield Republican, known for its high literary quality; and the Gaceta de Texas, the first newspaper in Texas.

Regional weeklies and metropolitan newspapers

In addition to many titles that highlight important themes and eras in American history, Series 4 includes the New York Herald, Boston Evening Transcript, Charleston Courier, Albuquerque Journal, Salt Lake Telegram, the Philadelphia North American and many others.

Superior bibliographic control

Like other Early American Newspaper series, Series 4 offers many significant titles listed in Clarence S. Brigham's "History and Bibliography of American Newspapers, 1690-1820" and other authoritative bibliographies. Bibliographic control for post-1820 titles in Series 4 comes from Winifred Gregory's "American Newspapers 1821-1936: A Union List of Files Available in the United States and Canada." A distinguished academic advisory board of librarians, curators and historians supervised the title selection process, considering the historical significance of each newspaper and the diverse political positions of the period.
