

ISADORA DUNCAN KILLED BY FALL FROM NEW AUTO

Dancer's Neck Broken When She Is Dragged to Roadway.

LONG NECK SCARF
CAUGHT IN WHEEL

Nice, France, Sept. 14 (AP).—Isadora Duncan, the American dancer, was killed in an automobile accident at 9:40 o'clock tonight. She was trying out a new automobile on the Promenade Des Anglais, when a gust of wind blew a long scarf which she was wearing around her neck over the side of the car. It became entangled in one of the wheels and dragged the dancer out of the machine into the roadway. Her neck was broken.

The dancer's body was removed to St. Roch hospital. At the time of the accident, Miss Duncan was accompanied by a newspaperwoman, Mary DeSoto Parks, who came to see her with reference to the publication of her memoirs.

In a conversation with a correspondent of the Associated Press yesterday, Miss Duncan said: "For the first time I am writing for money; now I am frightened that some quick accident might happen."

The premonition of her doom was only too true. A French chauffeur was teaching her to drive the new car, which was speeding along, when one end of her flowing scarf was whipped by the wind out of the side of the car and caught in the front wheel. The scarf tightened about her neck and in an instant she was dragged out.

Fate Played Strange Hand.
Fate seemed to have caused automobiles to play a small part in the life of Isadora Duncan. On several occasions she was injured, sometimes seriously, in automobile accidents, and in 1913, her two children, Beatrice, 5, and Patrick, 2, were drowned in the Seine river near Paris when their automobile ran into the river.

Later, in 1913, she was seriously injured in an automobile accident, and in May, 1924, was knocked unconscious when her car was in collision with another in Leningrad. On other occasions, she narrowly escaped death from drowning. One

EVEN A 'FIRST LADY' HAS HER MOMENTS OF PLAIN SPEAKING

On his return to Omaha from Rapid City, where he was "contact man" between the presidential party and the telephone company, Frank A. May of the Northwestern Bell Telephone company brought with him a statement which has a bearing upon the mystery of President Coolidge's interests in the 1928 nomination.

At an informal luncheon at which Mrs. Coolidge, Mrs. Everett Saunders, wife of the president's secretary, and Mrs. May were the only women present, Mrs. Coolidge was heard to declare:

"When we got back in private life, I'm contented here and do just as I damned please."

Mr. May declared that the secret service men were the bane of Mrs. Coolidge's life.

"There is always a secret service man at her side," said Mr. May, "and where it is not for Mrs. Coolidge would have thoroughly enjoyed her vacation."

FANNIE BRICE DIVORCED

Is Granted Decree from "Nicky" Arnstein.

Chicago, Ill., Sept. 14 (AP).—Fannie Brice, musical comedy star, today was granted a divorce from her husband, Jules "Nicky" Arnstein, New York promoter, upon whom she lavished loyalty and support when he was committed to Leavenworth penitentiary a few years ago for a New York bond theft.

Miss Brice testified she visited a Chicago hotel some time ago, and found her husband in the company of another woman whose name was not revealed. Hotel employees corroborated her story.

On Miss Brice's testimony that she received more than an ample income from her theatrical efforts the court gave her custody of their two children. She did not demand nor receive an alimony stipulation.

PLAN 2 STYLE SHOWS NEBRASKA-IOWA WEEK

Special Displays in Omaha
Stores to Be Added for Gala Week.

A FETE OF FASHIONS

Unusually complete stocks of merchandise that amount practically to a retail exposition from the whole world, will be one of the drawing cards of "Nebraska-Iowa Week" to be observed in Omaha September 19 to 24. And it will be made truly a gala week by the Ak-Sar-Ben Festival of Nations, the spirit of hospitality and welcome at industrial plants, the unusual entertainment at theaters, and other features.

A number of special events have been planned in Omaha retail places. At least two style shows are planned, an exposition of various products arranged in another store, and the like.

Perhaps more important from the standpoint of many of the visitors will be the stocks of goods on Omaha shelves and racks. A trip through various establishments impresses the variety of merchandise available. One store has over a thousand men's suits hanging on the racks, as tightly packed as the proverbial sardine. Several have from 15 to 20 per cent larger varieties than at this time in previous years.

Visitors from afar.
Omaha stands, not with a mere latching out, but with an open door, ready to greet friends from the entire territory it serves. Visitors are expected from as far away as five hundred miles.

Special decorations for all stores.

DEMANDS A TARIFF PACT ON BASIS OF 'GIVE AND TAKE'

France Says Conference on Duties Is Up to America.

'IF NO RECIPROCITY,
THEN NO MEETING'

Paris, Sept. 14 (AP).—Whether the American government desires to enter upon commercial treaty negotiations in a spirit of reciprocity, offering to give when it seeks to receive, is understood to be the question that the French government will put in its reply on the tariff question tomorrow.

If Washington wishes to take up conversations on the matter on that basis, the French government will be pleased to begin them at once, giving American imports, in the meantime, all of the advantages of minimum rates as if a treaty already had been agreed on.

This reply is understood to carry with it the implications that if the United States government does not find itself in a position to negotiate on the basis of reciprocity, France will not be able, in fairness to the countries with which there are already commercial treaties, to give the American goods any exceptional treatment.

The tariff reply, which the French government informed the United States embassy today, is not ready until tomorrow, is described as stating also rather fully the French position as to general tariff policy in commercial treaties in force under that policy.

The American Chamber of Commerce in France, protesting that the new rates are discriminatory, today appointed a committee to bring specific cases of discrimination to the attention of the ministry of commerce.

G. A. R. VETS GO BACK TO OLD DAYS AT 'CAMPFIRE MEETING'

Grand Rapids, Mich., Sept. 14 (AP).—Stirring days of the civil war were lived over again here tonight by veterans attending the national encampment of the G. A. R. The occasion was the annual "campfire meeting" set aside for the spinning of yarns incident to the clash between the north and south.

Approximately two thousand of the blue ranks marched in review before their commander in the annual parade, and, though a few were forced to quit the march due to overexertion and the extreme heat, not one collapsed.

Livened by a dozen bands and drum corps the old soldiers stepped along over the mile march with a surprising vigor.

DRIVER OF DEATH CAR FACES GRAVE CHARGE

Coroner's Jury Finds Raymond Young Responsible for Killing of Boy.

Raymond Young, 19, 2601 Meredith avenue, should be held for district court to answer a charge of causing death while exceeding the speed limit, was the recommendation Wednesday afternoon of the coroner's jury which investigated the accident of Tuesday afternoon in which Thomas Thickett, 8, was killed by a car driven by Young.

Preliminary hearing was set for Saturday.

Twenty witnesses were called by Deputy County Attorney Yeager and Clerk Steinwender, who represented the county attorney's office.

The jury found that the boy came to his death from being struck by Young's car, and recommended that Young be held. The jury deliberated only a few minutes.

Several witnesses testified that the car Young was driving was going at a high rate of speed. Several estimated it at 35 miles an hour. Young said he was driving between 15 and 20 miles an hour.

It was incorrectly stated in Wednesday's World-Herald that Louise Brown, 4222 Wirt street, was a passenger in the car driven by Young. Mr. and Mrs. George T. Brown, who live at the Wirt street address, deny that anyone living at that address was riding in Young's car. A girl riding in the car gave police the name of Louise Brown, and the Wirt street address.

Jerry Kostkan, 4105 Read street, testified that the child had started across the street and then apparently became frightened and started back, being struck by Young's car.

Young, questioned by Mr. Yeager, said he had been denied the use of his parents' two cars, "because of accidents." The accidents, he said later, were caused by others running into the car he was driving.

BROCK AND SCHLEE HEED ENTREATIES; ABANDON FLIGHT

Will Take Steamer from Japan Across the Pacific.

PLEA FROM CHILDREN
INFLUENCED DECISION

Tokio, Sept. 15 (AP).—The projected flight of the American monoplane. Pride of Detroit across the Pacific on its globe-circling tour was called off here today by its captives, Brock and Schlee, chief of the flight.

The decision to call off the flight followed a lengthy conference with aviation experts here and others interested in the undertaking. Many cablegrams from America urging the fliers to stop at Tokyo, also carried weight. Brock and Schlee finally concluded the attempt to negotiate the Pacific would be suicide.

They will take an early boat for the United States and have their monoplane shipped home.

A Successful Flight.
The decision to call off the flight brings to an end one of the most successful long-distance flights ever made. Brock and Schlee have flown 12,275 miles since they left Harbor Grace, N. F., on August 27.

All advice the fliers received was all against tackling the Pacific leg of the trip. A cablegram from the Schlee children in Detroit begging their father to think of them before he attempted to fly to the midway islands was a prime cause of the cancellation of the flight.

The itinerary of the plane from Harbor Grace to Kasumigaura, near here, follows:

August 27-28—Harbor Grace, N. F., to Crofton, England, 2,565 miles.
August 28-29—London to Munich, Germany, six hundred miles.
August 30—Munich to Belgrade, Yugoslavia, five hundred miles.
August 31—Belgrade to Constantinople, 300 miles.
September 1—Delayed by Turkish authorities.
September 2—Constantinople to Baghdad, Iraq, 1,075 miles.
September 3—Baghdad to Bunder Abbas, Persia, 1,000 miles.
September 4—Bunder Abbas to Karachi, India, 1,100 miles.
September 5—Karachi to Allahabad, India, 925 miles.
September 6—Allahabad to Calcutta, India, 455 miles.
September 7—Calcutta to Rangoon, Burma, 665 miles.
September 8—Rangoon to Hongkong, via Amoy, 1,100 miles.
September 9—Hongkong to Shanghai, 780 miles.
September 10—Shanghai to Omura, Japan, six hundred miles.
September 11-12—Detained at Omura by bad weather.
September 13—Omura to Kasumigaura, near here, 1,100 miles.
The fliers had nine and one-half days in which to break the world's record for circling the globe. The record is 28½ days set by Wells and Evans.

Best Ear of Corn Worth $50 Cash and $50 Suit

Nebraska Clothing Company Doubles Prize as Indorsement of The World-
Herald Contest.

Some person in Nebraska, or Iowa or South Dakota, has a growing ear of corn in his field that is worth more to the owner than one hundred bushels of other corn, even from the same field.

Someone from the three states will submit an ear to The World-Herald contest, and as a result will win a first prize of $50 in cash given by The World-Herald. In addition a $50 suit of clothes is to be given the winner.

"The biggest and best ear of corn interests me," volunteered John A. Swanson, president of the Nebraska Clothing company. "We want to indorse that contest begun by The World-Herald. We will present to the winner of the first prize a fine, customized handcrafted $50 suit. We owe it already to King Corn anyway."

So the winner of the contest will receive $50 cash and a $50 suit of clothes.

Five other ears of corn will bring high returns to their growers, winning five other cash prizes given by The World-Herald, the second prize being $20, third $15, and three of $5 each.

Each family may enter but one ear of corn, which must be securely tagged with the name and address of the contestant.

Four judges have been selected to go over the corn after it has all been received. They will consider various qualities of the corn, including soundness, general appearance, size of ear and kernels, uniformity, and the like.

The judges will be led by E. P. Peck, president of the Omaha Grain Exchange, who is also president of the Omaha Elevator company. With him will be Harry R. Clark, chief inspector for the grain exchange; H. E. Nelson, grain supervisor for the United States department of agriculture; and T. W. Milligan, assistant chief inspector for the exchange.

Winners will be announced as soon as possible after the close of the contest.

Rules for the corn contest: Any individual in Nebraska, Iowa, or South Dakota may enter an ear of corn by mailing it personally to The World-Herald building, 1506 Farnam street, Omaha, Nebraska, Sept. 24.

Entries will be received any time from Monday morning, September 19, until 9 p. m. of the day before the contest. Any kind, variety or color of corn may be entered. Entries are to become the property of The World-Herald.

Judges will take the following into consideration in picking the best ear: Soundness; color; hard solidity; freedom from injury, and general appearance.

Character of kernels, including depth, filling and ripeness.

Uniformity; size and shape of ear and of the kernels; regularity of rows and kernels; infilling of kernels.

FIFTEEN DEATHS CAUSED BY HEAT LISTED IN CHICAGO

Upper Floors of Apartment Houses Are Without Water.

HIGH TEMPERATURES
THROUGH MIDWEST

By Special Lensed Wire.
Chicago, Ill., Sept. 14.—With 15 deaths from heat prostration already recorded in Chicago, the temperature today again reached 95 degrees.

On account of the heat, William J. Bogan, acting school superintendent, ordered all portable building classes dismissed for the day.

The sun beating down on the roofs of the portables, which are constructed like ovens, created intense discomfort and it was feared the health of the 25 thousand children might be endangered.

High temperatures were reported through the midwest. There were two deaths in St. Louis, two in Milwaukee and several in Indiana. The average temperature over this area was 90 degrees and in Duquesne, Pa., the temperature went up to 95 degrees.

While beaches and parks were thronged with fugitives from stuffy rooms and apartments, hundreds of persons moved their beds to porches, roofs and in some cases into yards. The boulevards and highways were congested with motorists trying to get out of the sweltering city.

The upper floors of apartments throughout the city were without water as pumping stations worked at full blast to meet the unusual demand upon its mains. Police have been instructed to enforce rigidly the ordinance, prohibiting the sprinkling of lawns and washing windows except between 5 and 7 a. m., and 7:30 and 9 p. m. as a measure of conservation during the hot weather.

Possibility of an ice shortage came as a warning from officials of a number of Chicago companies supplying the city's cooling companies. President Thomas McGinnis of the Boyle Ice company declared that the ice companies are selling to their competitors who have been caught short by the unreasonable heat wave, but admitted that an extended wave would see a real shortage.

Omaha still sweltered in unreasonable heat Wednesday. The highest here was 94 at 3 and 4 p. m. Schools generally were dismissed early.
