

Positively the last day but one.

A PANORAMA OF THE

Monstrous Sea Serpent,

Which lately appeared in Gloucester Harbor, is now open for public exhibition at the Hall over Messrs. Ware & Pond's Store, Derby Square.

This Painting, 24 feet by 11, executed in oil colours, comprises a correct view of the Town and Outer Harbour of Gloucester, with the surrounding Scenery; the different Boats, in the position in which they were actually seen on the 14th of August, in pursuit of the Monster, while spouting in the above harbour, together with the Spect^{rs} on the surrounding shores, and the Shipping in the above harbour, &c.

Likewise, the Real

Young Sea Serpent.

Taken a few days since, and is considered to be the greatest curiosity in natural history.

Price 25 cents.
