

Henry Box Brown, who escaped from slavery to Philadelphia in a box, is exhibiting throughout England a panorama of slavery. He has the identical box with him, and was lately packed in it and went from Bradford to Leeds. After their arrival at Leeds, the box still containing Brown was placed in a coach, and preceded by a band of music and banners representing the stars and stripes of America, paraded through the principal streets of the town. After he had been exhibited in the box for two hours and three quarters, he was taken out in presence of a few spectators.
