

TO MR. JAMES RIVINGTON,
S I R,

Since you have inserted several pieces relative to the intentions of the East-India Company, and the different sentiments entertained of the last act of parliament relative to the duty on Tea, I have sent you an address to the inhabitants of this city, which, from your equitable behaviour to the writers on both sides, I presume you will not refuse to print in your next Gazetteer. I have enclosed a bill of Three Pounds to pay for inserting it; if that should not be sufficient let me know by the bearer how much more is required.

I am, Sir,

Your humble Servant,

POPPLICOLA.
