

CLEVELAND PLAIN DEALER

Issued Daily, Tri-Weekly and Weekly, CLEVELAND, OHIO.

W. A. COLLINS, Associate Editors, GEO. HOYT.

Thursday Evening, Sept. 17, 1863.

OUR COUNTRY, RIGHT OR WRONG.

DEMOCRATIC TICKET.

For Governor—CLEMENS L. VALLANDIGHAM, For Lieut. Governor—GEORGE E. FUGH.

DEMOCRATIC COUNTY TICKET.

For Senator—D. B. SEXTON, For Representative—C. W. HEARD, Dr. JASON BRADLEY, S. E. ADAMS.

The City.

Is to-day, crowded with people. On every corner groups are collected, chatting, laughing, and enjoying themselves generally.

Patrols, State and National.

Illustrate in the most striking and attractive form the fine thought that "Peace hath her triumph as well as war."

The Telegraph.

Reports the rebels erecting new batteries at Charleston and resisting with great stubbornness the progress of our troops.

The Abolition Detail.

Goes for nothing at its best; but we have plenty to say that we were informed of the facts stated in yesterday's paper concerning the shooting into a Democratic procession at Ravenna, by a citizen from Portage Co.

Exemption from the Draft.

It has been decided by the Provost-Marshal General that men whose names were drawn in the draft ordered from the War Department, Aug. 9, 1863, and who, on the 31st of March, 1863, had substitutes in the service of the United States, are to be held as exempted from liability to service under the present draft.

Suspension of the Habeas Corpus.

A legislative act. This has been the ruling of our courts. It has been the uniform practice in this country, until a Republican Congress delegated the power to Mr. LINCOLN.

The White Flag over Sumter.

May be, the new rebel flag, instead of a signal of submission. We shall see.

The Conscription of the Press.

Still continues, says the New York World. Even matters in no manner connected with military operations have to undergo the perusal, and receive the endorsement of the official censor.

A Bit of Fighting.

News has been received at Fort An Place from Fort on a flat, to the 6th inst., that two Spanish frigates had bombarded the latter city, and had entirely destroyed it, killing a large number of the inhabitants.

Unmeasured Abuse.

Ever since the honest Democratic masses of the land took bold and unequivocal ground against repeated infringements of the Constitution of the United States, by the public authorities, and their agents, civil and military, these masses have had to suffer the most extraordinary flood of scoundrel abuse ever visited upon people since CADMUS brought letters into Greece.

More Testimony.

A gentleman just called in at this office who attended the great Democratic Mass Meeting at Bucyrus. He says the crowd was perfectly immense. The estimates ran as high as 60,000 and 70,000.

The Florida.

As many surmises have been wasted as to the hocus quo of this rebel ship, the following from the Paris Motiv may be interesting.

Military Prospects in Arkansas.

Gen. Grant is at New Orleans, consulting with Gen. Banks. Contrary to general expectation, we see no evidence to believe that a movement is in progress against Mexico or Texas.

The National Horse Fair.

Is in full operation on Long Island. Don't you know that interesting worthy tilt at reaping machines, Durham cattle, Southdown sheep, or the fairy fabrics of hand and loom?

The New York Tribune publishes an exciting account of the attempt to assassinate Hon. D. W. VOORHIES.

General Corcoran on the Bull Run Battle Field. Yesterday, General Corcoran, under a strong escort of Major Hazard's Sixteenth New York Cavalry, visited the Bull Run battle ground, and his descriptions of the operations at the first battle, when he was taken prisoner, is described as very interesting.

General Corcoran on the Bull Run Battle Field.

Yesterday, General Corcoran, under a strong escort of Major Hazard's Sixteenth New York Cavalry, visited the Bull Run battle ground, and his descriptions of the operations at the first battle, when he was taken prisoner, is described as very interesting.

Under this caption, we notice in an exchange that Senor ROMERO, the Mexican Minister to the United States, has quietly slipped out of Washington and is now on his way to Mexico.

The Texas Expedition.

Has probably left New Orleans. It is expected to embark at Brownsville, on the Eastern bank of the Rio Grande. It will number at least 80,000 men. Texas can be invaded. Its vast extent however will prevent any extended occupation.

Outrages by Rebels in East Tennessee.

The expedition of Gen. BURNETT has confirmed the stories that about Brownlow and other Tennessee refugees, of the great outrages perpetrated upon Union-loving men in this section of the country.

Revenue Receipts.

The custom receipts at Boston for the week ending Sept. 6th, were $247,855 at Philadelphia, for the two weeks ending, September 13th, $1,019,101; at Baltimore from the 1st to the 13th of September, $75,900.

GENERAL NEWS.

NAVAL.—The French man-of-war Guise, Admiral RAY and Sir PIERCE, arrived at Halifax on Tuesday, Sept. 15.

THE SOUTH ATLANTIC SQUADRON.

The United States supply steamer Massachusetts will leave Philadelphia on Saturday for the South Atlantic Squadron.

AN INCONVENIENCE.

Republicans say they are for supplying the Government with men. Why then do they persist in paying the $800, when conscription will do better.
