FROM CHARLESTON.

DETAILED DESCRIPTIONS OF THE CAPE OF WAGNER AND GIBBS.

NEW YORK, Sept. 15.—The storm raging off Cape Hatteras yesterday prevented any serious attempt to get as far toward the coast as North Carolina today. The Union forces, which have been under the delusion for some days that they could capture this part of the city, have been confined to their decks by the heavy winds and the heavy shipping which has been thrown upon the Bar by the storm.

The federal forces have been at sea for two days, and the weather is expected to continue bad for several days. The Union ships are lying off the coast, and will probably be captured by the Confederates before they can be brought into action. The Confederates have been reinforced by new arrivals from the south, and are now in a strong position to resist the attack.

NASHVILLE JOURNAL.
FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 19, 1862.

THE NEW PORTAGE CURRENCY.

The public is not generally aware of the extent of the portage currency in this country. It is estimated that at least 500,000,000 dollars are in circulation, and that the principal users are the portage men, the slave traders, and the Negroes. The portage currency is not recognized by the government, and is not legal tender. It is not subject to taxation, and is not held in circulation by the public. The portage men, who are the principal users, are not required to pay any tax on the currency they use, and they are not subject to the laws of the country.

This is in answer to the demand of the United States that the portage currency be discontinued, and that the Negroes be prohibited from using it.

We are told that the government is about to issue a new currency, which will be called the "Confederate Dollar," and will be legal tender. This currency will be issued in the form of paper money, and will be legal tender in all transactions. It will be issued by the government, and will be circulated by the people. It will be legal tender for all debts, and will be accepted in payment of taxes. It will be legal tender in all the states of the Union, and will be accepted in payment of all debts, public and private.

The Confederacy has already issued a large amount of this currency, and it is expected that it will soon be in general use. It is hoped that this will be the means of putting an end to the use of the portage currency, and of bringing the people of the South into a state of security and liberty.

THE HARVEY STAFFORD CASE.

The Board of Directors of the Harvey Stafford Company, of St. Louis, have ordered a new set of directory to be made, and have instructed the Superintendent of the Company to go to New York, and have a new directory prepared for the city. The new directory will be ready for the use of the company in a few days.