Overview

Series 5 delivers more than 150 valuable 18th-, 19th- and 20th-century newspapers from every region of the United States. From the acclaimed newspaper collections of the American Antiquarian Society, the Library of Congress, Wisconsin Historical Society and more than 90 other institutions, Series 5 offers newspapers of unique historical significance, regional weeklies and big-city dailies.

Newspapers of special significance

Many of the titles in Series 5 are of special historical significance, such as Frederick Douglass' Paper (including its predecessor, the North Star), the famous anti-slavery newspaper. Others include the Steamer Pacific News, a nationally popular publication during the Gold Rush; Hokubei Jiji (The North American), the first Japanese-language newspaper in the Pacific Northwest; the Territorial Enterprise, one of Nevada's most important early newspapers; and the Owyhee Avalanche, the first daily in Idaho.

Regional weeklies and metropolitan newspapers

In addition to many titles that highlight important themes and eras in American history, Series 5 includes the Texas Gazette, Boston Journal, New York Tribune, Daily Alaska Dispatch, St. Louis Republic, Cincinnati Gazette, Milwaukee Sentinel and many others.

Superior bibliographic control

Like other Early American Newspaper series, Series 5 offers many significant titles listed in Clarence S. Brigham's "History and Bibliography of American Newspapers, 1690-1820" and other authoritative bibliographies. Bibliographic control for post-1820 titles in Series 5 comes from Winifred Gregory's "American Newspapers 1821-1936: A Union List of Files Available in the United States and Canada." A distinguished academic advisory board guided the title selection process.
