Quick Facts

_Early American Newspapers, Series 6_ presents more than 180 historical American newspapers
- Expanded coverage from every region of the United States
- Newspapers of special historical significance, regional weeklies and big-city dailies

“…rich with titles of national and local importance…. a real research gem for historians, all levels of college students….Highly recommended.”
— C. W. Bruns, California State University, Fullerton, in Choice (July 2014)

Overview

Series 6 provides more than 180 important 18th-, 19th- and 20th-century newspapers from every region of the United States. Drawing from the acclaimed newspaper collections of the American Antiquarian Society, Kansas Historical Society, the Library of Congress, Wisconsin Historical Society and other institutions, Series 6 further supplements the preceding series, resulting in enhanced research opportunities and more complete coverage of American history, culture and daily life.

Newspapers of special significance

Series 6 includes many new titles of singular importance, including the _Detroit Plaindealer_, Detroit’s first successful black newspaper; _The Colored American_, which provided detailed coverage of the Amistad revolt; the _Argus of Western America_, an early Kentucky paper and a strong supporter of Andrew Jackson; and the _Arkansas Gazette_, one of the first papers west of the Mississippi. Other significant titles include the _Kalamazoo Gazette_, _Kansas City Times_, _Northern Standard_, _Oregon State Journal_ and many more.

Extended coverage of essential titles

Series 6 also features substantial new runs of important titles found in previous series but previously unavailable. These include the _National Intelligencer_, the leading newspaper of the capital; the _Massachusetts Spy_, co-founded by Isaiah Thomas, one of the most successful and colorful journalists of the 18th century; the _Charleston Courier_, predecessor to the oldest daily newspaper in the South; and the _Enquirer_, Richmond’s enormously influential weekly.

Superior bibliographic control

An Archive of Americana® collection

As part of America’s Historical Newspapers, _Early American Newspapers, Series 6_ shares a common interface with all other Readex newspaper series, including _American Ethnic Newspapers_. Additionally, all America’s Historical Newspapers series are cross-searchable with all other _Archive of Americana®_ collections.

UNLOCK HISTORY.

For more information on this and other Readex collections, call 800.762.8182, email sales@readex.com or visit www.readex.com